President's Corner

Last weekend, the Wanenmacher Gun show was held at the QuickTrip Center in Tulsa. It has been touted as the world's largest gun show, and with the current change with our administration leaders from the White House it appears to have made it even bigger. A few of our club members had gun tables there and many more members spent quite a few hours walking, looking, or shopping for a special deal. Over 38,000 people attended the show and if you were a first timer, it was quite a show. Cash traded hands quickly and many good and maybe not so good deals were made. It was difficult to look and not buy anything. For me, I spent several hours looking and then came home with rifle and pistol shells as they have been hard to find at local sports shops. As many of you know, our stock of shotgun primers and some powder here at the club are beginning to become scarce. We are trying to stock up on whatever we can get our hands on. If you have a special component that you normally find in our trailer, you may have to start ordering it to ensure that we will have it available for you. Please be patient with Jim Reynolds and Bill Powers as they can only sell what components we get from Graph & Sons. Many of our orders are on backlog and we understand your needs. Also, remember if your order goes on backlog, you can cancel before it gets here. Once it is here, it is yours. If you find it cheaper somewhere else, remember the club has already paid for it and it is your responsibility to pay for what you ordered.

I heard through the grape vine that Jeanine Stevens attended a two day instruction course on trap shooting. Everyone be aware of this, as she may be after your money when shooting. Watch out for "I'll shoot you for a coke or candy bar", as she is just setting you up for her "pay day". Anyway, congrats to Jeanine, and keep shooting lights out. Maybe she can even teach "Billy" a thing or two about trap shooting.

While shooting trap last week with one of our newcomers, Mike Proctor, it became apparent that he was on his way to a 25 straight with only a few shots left. Up jumps the demon and he missed his 23rd bird and had to settle for a 24. Just remember Mike, that you have to pay your way to getting a 25 straight, shooting many 24's first. Keep up the good work. While many of the morning skeet shooters have been drinking coffee and eating sweets on the cold and windy days, Jim Cable enjoys the challenge and has been shooting quite a few 25 straights lately. Tell me Jim, "What is your secret"? (Pat Kendrick 337-1477)

Annual Clean UP Day is scheduled for Saturday, April 18th. Please mark on your calendar as the club will be closed to everyone and that your participation in this clean-up is greatly needed.
